SHORT STORIES

Facts With Fills, Fictions and Otherwise.
By "S. S."

Going to church today?
P. A. H. C. week Monday.

Pirates' game with Hammond Tigers has been cancelled.

A great massacre of the Turks is scheduled for this week.

Who dropped the chain at the Procter-Ward corner last night?

Let us be thankful there's only four more days until Thanksgiving and turkey.

George Sims retired promptly at 9 each evening, S. S. is reliably informed.

Automobile with Massachusetts number parked on Austin avenue Saturday night.

The way some duck hunters dress up makes S. S. cease to wonder why they never kill any ducks.

Company D, "Port Arthur's Own," holds first drill Tuesday night at the armory, Fort Worth and Sixth streets.

The eagles will hear about when the football season is over are not just birds—merely basketball players.

Judging by crowds on Procter last midnight, S. S. is of the opinion that all the owls are not confined to the Big Thicket.

Her Cousin was shaking hands with friends here Saturday night. He has been kept in the North End this week at federal court.

Our flapper friend is so proud of her diamond ring that she rolls her gloves back when she walks down Procter, weather regardless.

It may take a broken show window to convince several young Americans that the lobby of a Procter street establishment is not to be used as a skating rink.

Nothing is so bad but what it has good points. For instance, a member of the Deaver Club has stopped smoking for fear of staining his members, he announced to S. S. Saturday.

Great discussion raged at Central fire station Saturday night regarding the day to stuff a foal, and if the foal can be fattened to sufficiency by stuffing between now and Thanksgiving.

Georges Clemenceau qualified as a football defender by picking Harvard up with a hearty disavowal on the meaning and usage of "status quo," it appears that the status quo of the bonus bill resembles that of the bull park proposition and vice versa.

The earnestness of Thanksgiving reminds S. S. of the international complication that would result if a negro waiter drops a dish containing the goblet. Such an occurrence would cause the downfall of Turkey, the upsetting of Greece, the breaking up of China and the humiliation of Africa.

The Austin-Procter-Corner club has passed resolutions of regret over the long skirt movement that is sweeping the sidewalks of the country. However, the members of the club are aware that the history of women's skirts is: "Long again, short again, narrow again, long over again."

"Everything I begin to hear they have flags and hunting all over everything," remarked a gentle stranger in our midst Saturday, who added he was here Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and Labor Day and now he finds himself in the midst of the P. A. B. C. celebration.

Judge acquits boy who was charged with stealing kiss.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 25.—It isn't a suit for a young woman to steal a kiss from Sis Juliet—it's only natural.

Judge R. M. Abernathy of the court of misdemeanors thus disposed of a case growing out of the theft of a kiss, and turned her a happy 18-year-old lover and his kind sweetheart.

And the judge made no effort to conceal the resentment which he felt toward the girl's mother who had sworn out a warrant for the lad's arrest for such a charge.

"I just kissed her, that's all," said young Lee when he took the stand. Then he admitted he had kissed her once before during a four-months courtship.

"Slow work," commented the judge, to which the boy gave serious assent. "I disbelieve you," declared Judge Abernathy. "A daughter has a right to pick her own sweetheart. Young man, you have a hard road to travel to win the consent of your prospective mother-in-law, but I wish you luck."

Forest Fires Threaten 3 Towns

"Thou Shalt Not Kill" A sentence unique in the annals of traffic law violations was that imposed on six motorists of Cleveland recently. They were made to attend the funeral of a traffic victim. Traffic Judge Sawicki, in passing out this sentence, said he intended it as an object lesson to reckless drivers. The six who were sentenced had been arrested on various charges of violating traffic ordinances, but had nothing to do with the death of the child whose funeral they were forced to attend. The victim was 7-year-old Catherine Gilmore, who was killed by a speeding automobile in front of her home. Above is shown the flower-covered casket being escorted into the church by some of the child's schoolmates. At right the six motorists, under police guard, are shown entering the church. The next of the funeral sermon was "Thou shalt not kill."

MONDAY AND 4TH OF JULY RIVALS Gates Anecdotes Called To Minds of Old Timers On Visit to College

But It Will Be First of 5-Day P.A.B.C. Week

Monday morning there will be many who, when they first catch sight of Port Arthur's streets, will imagine it is July 4. If they will stop to think just one second they will remember that it is the day that the merchants of the city have been preparing for them, as a specimen of the five days to follow. It will be Monday, November 27, the first day of the most eventful week of Port Arthur's career in entertaining and mystifying both careful and fastidious shoppers. One has but to take a sweeping glance at the streets as they are dressed in their gala attire, to be assured that entertainment will follow. To view the beautiful trims in the show windows is assurance, as well, that shoppers are going to be bewitched by the bazaar offerings through the week. The stage is set, the show is on and will open, and the population of the entire city and surrounding country will have "reserved seats in the first row." If you miss it, you will miss a yearly event that will go down in Port Arthur's history as a people breaker as a combination of entertainment and merchandising.

FOUR MAY DIE IN TROLLEY CRASH

15 Hurt, Policemen Protect Motorman From Mob

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 25.—Fifteen persons were injured, four possibly fatally, when a trolley crashed into the rear end of a Catherine street car here tonight. Police reserves rushed to the scene of the accident and spirited the car away from an angry mob that gathered after the collision. The cause of the accident is unknown.

WACO MAN, 74, DIES WACO, Texas, Nov. 25.—J. Goldberg, 74, pioneer of Central Texas, retired merchant, died here today. He came to Waco fifty years ago and for the past twenty-five years was president of the congregation Agudath Jacob.

Cloudy East Texas: Sunday mostly cloudy; Monday cloudy; somewhat warmer in northern Texas. West Texas: Sunday fair; Monday fair; warmer in north portion.

Forecast for the Week Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys and Rocky Mountain and Plateau Regions: Generally fair with moderate temperatures near or below normal. West Gulf States: Cool and generally fair weather, but with a probability of showers the middle of the week.

APPEALS FOR AID SENT BY COURIER

Hundreds of Volunteers Unable to Check Flames HUNTERS TO BLAME

New Jersey Towns in Path of Fast-Moving Blaze

CAPE MAY, N. J., Nov. 25.—Raging forest fires are sweeping through Cape May county tonight, threatening to wipe out Kinney Town, Rio Grande and Fishing Creek, three small villages directly in the path of the flames.

A fifty mile wind drove the blaze toward Tinidor, dry leaves, underbrush, seasoned cordwood and dead timberland fed the flames that have already crossed four square miles of timberland with amazing speed. Hundreds of volunteers were unable to check the fire and appeals for assistance and apparatus were sent to Wildwood, Cape May and other towns along the south Jersey shore.

The fire first assumed serious proportions yesterday when Kinneytown was threatened with destruction. Flames swept within a hundred yards of the little village and it appeared certain the place would be wiped out as crackling flames were almost licking the houses on the outskirts of the town when a chemical company arrived. Chemical spray and a change in the wind turned the blaze. The fire then was believed under control.

High winds late today whipped up sparks and the fire again moved. Dense smoke hindered the most from reaching the center of the fire. Flames tonight leaped high and illuminated the sky.

Armed handling of matches by hunters is believed to have started the fire and an effort will be made to prevent more gunners from going into the woods until after a rain.

UPKEEP OF 'PRO' MACHINE COSTLY

$9,500,000 Sought for War on Bootleggers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Nine and a half million dollars will be asked by the federal prohibition department for next year's battle with bootleggers, under plans being discussed by dry chiefs tonight.

Congress will be asked to appropriate this sum for the coming fiscal year, in order that a new enforcement system may be put into effect. The new system will be a "serious situation."

A shake up of the system, involving several hundred field agents and some state directors and other officials is under way to meet the president's objection that the present regime has permitted increased prohibition violations.

Attorney General Daugherty tonight joined the movement for strict enforcement which the administration decided on in a meeting of the cabinet Friday. He announced that a system of conferences between federal and state attorneys had been arranged so that closer co-operation between the two groups might be obtained. The conferences also will handle violations which might come under the Dyer automobile theft law, the narcotic act and the postal fraud law.

EX-WIFE HOPES HE WILL BE HAPPY

DALLAS, Nov. 25.—"Charlie is getting to be a quiet shock."

Thus commented Mildred Harris, screen star and former wife of Charlie Chaplin, late this afternoon, concerning the latest report of the engagement of Charlie and Pola Negri.

"Every week I am informed he is engaged to a different girl. I hope he gets someone that will make him very happy."

KNIFED IN AFFRAY

BELTON, Texas, Nov. 25.—Following an affray on the streets of Belton this afternoon, Robert Garner of Belton was taken to the hospital with a wound in his leg.

The dramatic posse, officers say, over a small debt.

DEFER TEACHERS' EXAMS

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—Postponement of the teachers' examination until December 8 and 9 in Jefferson county is necessitated as the result of the State Teachers' association meeting scheduled to be held in Houston next week. County meetings of teachers are usually held on the first Friday and Saturday in December.

PROPOSED VICE DRIVE OPPOSED

'Church Member' Expresses Views in Letter URGES SEGREGATION

Declares Such Campaigns Are Disastrous

Taking issue with the announced intention of members of the Port Arthur Ministerial association and Port Arthurian, signing himself as a "church member," and whose real name is on file with the News, makes a spirited argument in favor of the restricted district, and against attempts to stamp out this district. The argument is made in the shape of a letter, addressed to the News, the public and members of the association, with the request that it be published.

Efforts last January to close down the restricted district, which he declares is open again, were recalled by the writer. The effort to close down the district, the writer declared, resulted only in driving the inmates to the residential sections, where they were much more effective spreaders of vice than in the restricted district. The district is again attracting their former residents, he says. "Let them stay there," is his advice.

The Letter "I wish that you would print this article in your paper. It is for the benefit of the respectable people of Port Arthur."

"I happened to pick up a copy of the News and read where the preacher of Port Arthur are going to preach on the vice that is existing in the city. I would like for you to publish this article so that our people can read it before they go to preaching."

"I am a young man, and I have been here about one year. Shortly before I came here the red light district was broken up. Then what happened? The women in the district scattered all over town, next to your house and next to mine and next to houses where there were young ladies who until then had never heard of vice. Where are some of these young ladies? Right in the red light district today."

Beaumont Conditions "You know and I know that when they broke up that red light district and scattered those women all over town nobody liked it. Neither did they like it at Beaumont when the district was broken up. When Mr. Johnson was chief of police they all lived in the district, and policemen kept law and order and bothered no one as long as they behaved themselves. When they did not behave, they went to jail promptly. Now you go to Beaumont. You will find them scattered all over town, and the people of Beaumont don't like it."

"Now, while I have these women in the red light district again in Port Arthur, let's keep them back where they belong."

Yours respectfully, "A Church Member of Port Arthur"

ED C. NUTT SHOWS GAIN IN POPULARITY

An entire change of program is put on daily by Ed C. Nutt dramatic company, playing in their tent, Dallas avenue and Thoms boulevard, and the popularity of the show is evidenced by the announcement of the management that the stay of the shows in Port Arthur has been extended several weeks.

Well known in this city from former visits, the Nutt shows are declared to be better this year than ever before. Actors and actresses carry off their parts well and the productions are of high order, gripping and entertaining for the audience, those who have seen the productions declare.

OH, FOR THE LIFE OF A GRAND JURYMAN

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—Jurors in United States district court are daily assailed by temptation, both strong and illicit.

Evidence against alleged breakers of government liquor laws, usually in the form of a bottle of booze, is submitted to the jurors—to be smelled. All swell gravely, after which they deliver their opinion as to whether or not the stuff is hooch.

LIFE-TERM CONVICT, HUNTSVILLE ESCAPE

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—Harry Williams, a life term convict, sent up from Jefferson county in 1907 for the murder of a prison guard, escaped from the Huntsville prison, it became known today in advice received by Sheriff Tom Garner, Williams, at first sentenced to hang, had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

$150 DIAMOND, PEARL NECKLACE STOLEN

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—Theft of a $150 diamond and pearl necklace was reported to police Saturday by Mrs. P. E. Hammond, 2003 North street. The theft occurred Saturday night while residents of the Hammonds' home were downstairs.

HIT BY AUTO; DIES

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 25.—Jonas Balt, 62, died here tonight after having been struck by an automobile. The driver of the car is held pending investigation of the accident.

Famed Beauties Display Signs—'Man Wanted'

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—Women are are opposed with unusual frankness which they express in "signs."

Julia Bachege, famous beauty, who has divorced four husbands, but is "without incumbrance" at present, wears a figure "4" set in diamonds to indicate she is ready to try again.

Helen de Finera, another beauty, went bathing with a beauty spot two inches above her left knee. She said it was the stigma of the "bachelorette" and symbolized a husband hunt.

ADVERSE REPORT ON COAST CANAL

Believed Government Will Not Approve

Government engineers will report adversely on the construction of that part of the interoceanic canal between the Sabine district and Galveston according to a forecast from an authoritative source in the East, received by local interest Friday. The adverse report, if it does not kill the project, will delay it at least for some years to come, it is believed.

The matter has little interest here, save in its aspect as a project of which all the gulf coast has been hearing a good deal about, for it is believed that the project would have little effect here.

For, as case off—which is the only commodity that could be moved from here by barge to Galveston for finishing cargo—never loaded on top, due to danger of his damage to the main cargo from leakage—there was little prospect of vessels loading at Galveston finishing with barge transported cargoes from Port Arthur, and Port Arthur had little shipping business to be impelled via the canal. The port of Beaumont was about the only one of the Sabine ports which could have been expected to lose any direct business by way of the canal and barge lines, as a good portion of Beaumont's cargo tonnage is made up of commodities which could easily be taken to Galveston and used for finishing cargo—and the same may result through completion of the section of New Orleans to a nine-foot draft through.

MARINES TO GET COMFORT KITS

Local Women Interested in Red Cross Project

Port Arthur women are indicating their interest in the project of the local Red Cross chapter for making 100 comfort kits to be shipped to United States Marines stationed in Haiti and San Domingo, officials of the chapter said Saturday, and numbers of calls for information regarding the making and shipping of the kits have been made at Red Cross headquarters.

The comfort kits consist of a khaki bag, 14 inches by 10 inches with a draw string in the top. Red Cross officials stated, and articles to be placed in the kit are: One face towel; wash rag; cake of soap; comb; tooth brush; no tooth paste; pencils, two handkerchiefs; shoe strings; "how-evers" with needles, thread, buttons and safety pins.

All of the kits should be forwarded to Red Cross headquarters, as they will be shipped from here to National Red Cross headquarters before going to Haiti and San Domingo, it was stated. Chapters all over the country have been asked to make these comfort kits for the marines, and Port Arthur's quota is 100.

FALLS TO DEATH

Army Man's Horse Falls and Followers Trample Him

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 25.—Crushed beneath the hoofs of horses that were trailing his mount in a dash for first place in the first quarter mile race for enlisted men at the Remount Depot Horse Show Saturday afternoon, Private J. J. Burgess sustained injuries that resulted in his death. Burgess' horse was leading the race when he stumbled and threw the rider to the ground directly in the path of the other racing horses. The rider was mangled beneath the hoofs of the following horses, sustaining a compound fracture of the skull. He was rushed to the station hospital at Fort Sam Houston, but death followed shortly after he was taken there. He never regained consciousness.

Tiernan, Wed Today, May Lose Divorce

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 25.—The divorce secured by John P. Tiernan from Mrs. August Tiernan, was ordered vacated by Judge Montgomery at a special session of court today. Rehearing of the case was ordered for December 11.

EXPLOSIONS IN NEW MEXICO AND IN KANSAS

Six of Injured Victims Expected to Die HALF OF MINERS ESCAPE

Gas and Discharge of Barrel of Powder Cause

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 25.—Seven men are dead, 13 injured and eight more still in a mine at Madrid, 40 miles from here, following an explosion late this afternoon. Thirteen men taken from the mine were brought to hospitals here.

There were about 40 men in the mine when the explosion occurred. It was caused by the accumulation of coal gas. About half of the men escaped unharmed.

Crews are working tonight to rescue the eight men believed to still be in the mine.

Of the injured men in the hospitals, two, it is expected will not live. They are severely burned. The mine is owned by the Cerrillo and Madrid Coal company of Albuquerque.

DROPS POWDER KEG ON STORAGE BATTERY

PITTSBURG, Kans., Nov. 25.—Thirteen miners were in hospitals here and at Grand tonight recovering from injuries and burns received in an explosion at the Hamilton Coal and Coke company at Cherokee today.

The explosion occurred when Stewart Hamilton dropped a keg of powder on a storage battery, six thousand feet from the entrance to the 120 foot level. The spark from the battery touched off the powder burying fifteen workmen beneath the wreckage.

Forty-eight workmen were in the mine when the accident occurred. The explosion made itself felt throughout the workings and shook buildings surrounding the mine property.

When the smoke cleared from the shaft, rescue crews pushed their way into the scene of the blast. Cried to the mine mouth by their companions, the injured men regained consciousness. Four, however, were not expected to live. Hamilton was believed the most seriously injured. Others injured were:

HERRIN'S THIRD PANEL FOR JURORS EXHAUSTED

MARIION, Ill., Nov. 25.—The third panel of prospective jurors in the Herrin massacre trial was exhausted today after several days of questioning by defense attorneys.

The dismal old courthouse was emptied shortly after noon except for the four accepted and three tentative accepted jurors who will hold session with their two bailiffs until Monday morning.

The jurors sleep in a special jury room on the third floor of the jail section. It is expected the court will adjourn over Thanksgiving. Fifty talesmen were called for next week. Thirty will appear in court Monday.

FREIGHTER AGROUND

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The steel freighter Andaste, owned by the Cliff Company, ran aground on Carleton Island at the upper end of Lake Ontario today during a blinding storm and gale.

The boat carried a crew of 20 men and was loaded with 72,000 bushels of wheat. A picked crew from the vessel rowed ashore and brought word of the vessel's plight.

TAILOR SHOP FRAUD ARTISTS AGAIN ACTIVE

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—Representing himself as an employee of a local tailor shop, a young white man Friday obtained twenty suits and several overcoats from members of the crew of the Jalisco, a Mexican boat docked here. When he failed to return Saturday, as he had promised, the owners of the suits became anxious and reported to police.

They in turn investigated. Their investigation failed to reveal the whereabouts of the man. But they did learn that he did not represent a tailor shop.

CLUB AGED WOMAN; FOUR NEGROES HELD

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 25.—A personal probe into an alleged assault made upon Mrs. E. S. Summerville, aged woman, Thursday, was launched Sunday by Police Judge J. D. Campbell. Four negroes, held on charges of simple assault growing out of the affair, were notified that their hearings were postponed from Saturday until Tuesday in order that the judge might have time to probe into the case.

The negroes are alleged to have severely beaten the aged woman, whom, they declare, owed them money.

Home Before Business, Business Before Pleasure

MRS. LULA H. CUSENBAY

By MARION HALE Home before business, but business before pleasure, is the policy that has enabled Mrs. Lula H. Cusenbay to combine successfully a home and business career.

Now she is vice president of the Bank of Hydrus, Okla., a job coveted by many a man and looked upon with envy by many of her own sex.

But this does not prevent her from being a devoted mother and wife, and keeping an accurate eye on all expenditures. Nor has she ever lost her lunch with pies or forgotten any of the culinary technique she perfected before she undertook business.

"A woman should devote just as much time to her home as it takes to run it efficiently," she told me, "but if she uses labor-saving devices and lets her hand save her feet she should have time left to devote to a business or professional career if she wants one."

They Mix Well "Business makes a woman appreciate her home. The contrast between an office and a home puts the home in a very favorable light."

"A knowledge of house-keeping and the ability to make a home makes a woman more valuable and resourceful in business than the mere mastery of shorthand and what the commercial schools offer."

"When I first was married I learned to systematize my housework. That gave me a great deal of extra time. So I got into the habit of going down to the bank to help my husband."

"When he went away on business he left me in charge of his work. So I practically learned banking by absorption. Soon I was given a regular position, assistant cashier. I was promoted to cashier, and then to the vice presidency."

Trains Her Daughter "I am training my flapper daughter, Olive, to be a business woman."

BERGDOLLS BEGIN NEW FIGHT FOR RELEASE

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 25.—Edwin Bergdoll, convicted army deserter and draft dodger, and a brother of the notorious Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, began a new fight for freedom today.

Judge John C. Pollock in federal court here promised today to release Bergdoll from the Leavenworth penitentiary if proof could be supplied that Woodrow Wilson, while president, issued a proclamation ordering the pardon of any army deserter at eighteen months' sentence.

MATH WIZARD OF 11 IS FOUND IN INDIA

MADRAS, Nov. 25.—A mathematical prodigy has been discovered. He is not 11 years old and his name is Rajanurayanan. He has been brought to Madras by his father from Madras (the religious capital of Southern India, where he astonished everybody with his knowledge of higher mathematics.

He has been examined by Justice Shaw, who considers that the boy is a genius.

Rajanurayanan is a well-educated Brahmin with a considerable knowledge of English. He has been awarded a Madras government scholarship, for which he came here. Professor East of the Madras Christian college questioned him in higher mathematics and was greatly struck by his ready and correct answers.

He eagerly reads books, and his nervous tension, if any, is not visible. He was introduced to Robinsonath Tagore, the poet, who made a fuss of him and blessed him.

Pennant Material From Texas in Big Leagues

DIAMOND GRADS STATE WOULD MAKE CHAMPS

Other Texas Pastimers Have Lots of Punch

Material for a baseball club which would be a pennant contender in the circuit from the opening gong to the last out in the final series—what is included in the former ball players whose names appear in the reserve lists of the big ball clubs just published. In one or two minor exceptions, jumped from Texas baseball of lower classification, the players graduates of the Texas league circuit which, perhaps not as heralded as the Pacific coast circuit, is known to "bunters" as the best hunting in the minor leagues.

Order to give an idea of the of the Texans in the major leagues, it is not a list of the graduates, but just a quick peek at reference to records of those but show now—these players, one scribbles going rapidly over it recalls its former Texas bangers are recalled as former pastimers of the Lone Star loop: the catching staff, Hank Gowley, Brainerd, Frank Snyder of the Braves; Paul Hunsinger of the Boston of the Senators.

DOCTORS' DON'T SEE ALIKE FOR ALL-TIME NINE

Robinson's Pick Injects New Interest Element

Injection of an All-Time All-Star baseball machine as picked by Bill Robinson, famous as an old friend, former, giant coach and Brooklyn manager, in juxtaposition with the picks made by John McGraw and Connie Mack brings out many interesting features in addition to that of the differing of great minds of the diamond—an angle pointed out by Louis A. Dougher writing in the Sporting News.

It indicates that the judgment of even the most competent of the critics is moved somewhat by the personal actions and reactions of the critics. For instance, Dougher points out, McGraw does not pick Ty Cobb, undoubtedly considered the greatest scoring machine the game has ever produced, although most critics would prefer him to Eddie Roush. Mike Doulin, Jimmie Sheppard and George Burns who, with Fred Clark constitute McGraw's outfield, put together. Neither does McGraw pick Eddie Collins, like Cobb named by both the others.

Strikes Fire

Cobb is a man who struck fire and usually a fight in every game he ever played against the McGrawites.

Collins, who was responsible for the blinding of some of McGraw's fond words' championship hopes. Yet on the other hand McGraw picks Frank Chance, the "Peerless Leader" who blazed equally as many hopes for him, and Hans Wagner, who year after year proved a dangerous opponent for his teams, for places on his all-time team.

Picked Twice

"Another interesting bit is the unanimity of opinion expressed by the judges," writes Dougher. "Cobb, Collins, Snyder, Hornsby, Speaker, Klint Johnson, Wagner, Walsh, Mathewson, McGinnity, Ruppel, Alexander and Waddell are mentioned twice.

"Yes, and it might be noted that it is strange that neither Hal Chase nor Fred Tenney received honorable mention as first basemen, that Burleigh Grimes, even got in at all, that Ken Williams' single good year entitled him to a place and that so good a baseball player as McGraw failed to mention Walter Johnson, or Eddie Plank but did name Ed Rulbach and Art Nehf."

Robby's Plingers

Robinson's pick of a plinger staff is particularly interesting—remember Robby was a catcher and known as a great judge and coach of pitchers. The pick includes Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Rube Waddell, "Iron Man" John McGinnity, Grover Alexander, Burleigh Grimes, Ed Ruppel, and Ed Walsh.

Ed Walsh picks only one pitcher who has worked for him for a while, and that is Burleigh Grimes, whom the order of selection indicates would be a second stringer. Zack Wheat is a substitute outfielder on Robby's list. Connie Mack recommends several of the old club which made his fame—Eddie Collins, Jack Barry, Frank Baker, and Eddie Plank. Neither McGraw or Robinson mention Plank, "Gaw" of the greatest forces of the game, and a player who went far toward meeting Giant hopes on more than one occasion.

Where They Differ

Robby's first catcher, his best for all time, is George Sizer. So was Connie's McGraw preferred Frank Chance.

Robby's second baseman is Eddie Collins. Connie Mack could not choose between Collins and Larry Lajoie. McGraw picked Rogers Hornsby.

Frank Treesh is Robby's best third baseman of all time. Connie Mack again has two berths for the same job. Jimmie Collins and Frank Baker, while McGraw selected Heinie Groh.

Completing the infield, Robinson offers Rogers Hornsby or Hans Wagner, with Connie Mack presenting the names of Everett Scott and Jack Barry. McGraw had no doubts. He picked Hans Wagner.

Outfield Picks Differ

Now look at the outfielders. For left field—remember, the best of all time—Robby picked Ty Cobb. Connie Mack named Babe Ruth. McGraw, Fred Clarke.

Robinson's best center fielder is Tris Speaker. Mack's Speaker and McGraw's Roush.

Center is Robinson's best right fielder: Ty Cobb is Mack's and McGraw preferred Mike Doulin.

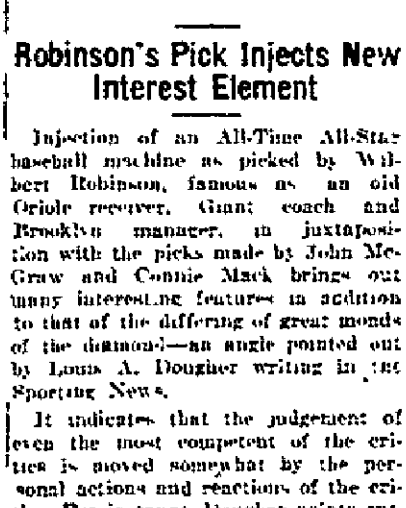

Behind the bat Robinson picked Steve O'Neill and Johnny Kling. Mack offered Wally Schang and Ray Schalk. McGraw had Johnny Kling.

Giants New Wonder Player Has Typhoid

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Jimmy O'Connell, the $75,000 center fielder whom the Giants bought from San Francisco, is suffering from a slight touch of typhoid, not scarlet fever in his home at Bayles Springs, Cal.

This word was received at the Giants' offices Wednesday in a dispatch from Bill Lange the old-time uncle of George Kelly, the Giants' first baseman, who discovered O'Connell for the Giants.

WOLFE IS ONE WHO CAME BACK

Clever Bantam Has Sharks Staring Aghast

They seldom come back in any sport after once being labeled "all in." Jack Wolfe, the clever little bantam fighter, is one of the few exceptions. Wolfe is once more back in the pugilistic spotlight.

Last December Jack Wolfe, Cleveland veteran of twelve years of ring campaigning, was slated for the pugilistic graveyard. He had been horribly mangled in an automobile accident and surgeons opined that he could be a cripple for life—if he lived. As for boxing again, such a thing was too preposterous to consider.

But Wolfe has fooled everybody. Three months after he left the hospital, Jack started training for a comeback. After engaging in a half dozen minor contests the little Cleveland was matched to box Freddie Jones, Billy Gibson's unbeaten bantam, at Tex Rickard's Velodrome in New York. Jerome got the jump on Jack and dropped him repeatedly in the first round. Wolfe gamely struggled to his feet without taking a count after each knockdown, but when he staggered to his corner at the end of the round the outlook was mighty discouraging for him. However, the little amateur stuck through the twelve rounds and finished stronger than Jerome.

Jimmy O'Connell goes to the New York Giants. About a year ago McGraw gave $75,000 to the San Francisco club for O'Connell. He was then a first baseman. In order to put through the deal McGraw was forced to allow O'Connell to play the following year on the coast.

EVERETT SCOTT EXPLAINS WORK

Slowing Up, Is Moved to Faster Infield

Shortstop Everett Scott of the New York Yankees, who like Babe Ruth, was one of the big disappointments of the world series, has an explanation for his failure to show his old-time form that sounds logical.

"A lot of people were surprised at my failure to get certain balls that were hit in my territory during the series," says Scott. "I was one of them, although it had been apparent to me all year that I wasn't covering as much ground as formerly.

"The idea has already been advanced that I am old and slipping in my play. Possibly there is some truth to that. I realize that I can't go as far for them as I could 19 years ago. However, I feel that the Polo Grounds was more responsible for making it seem that I was slowing up than any one other thing.

"Don't get the impression that I am offering this as an alibi, or that there is anything wrong with the Polo Grounds. As a matter of fact, the infield is so very fast at the Polo Grounds that it has had me a bit off balance all year.

"National and American League players will tell you that the Polo Grounds infield is the fastest in either league. The infield at the Boston American League park, where I have spent most of my career, is correspondingly slow. Players always jokingly referred to the Red Sox park as the swamp as the infield was low and always seemed inclined to be damp and slow.

"It was the irony of fate that I should be transferred to New York as I am nearing the end of my career and be forced to play on so fast an infield. I feel that I could switch back to the Boston park and seem as brilliant as ever.

"True, age is beginning to tell but the speed of that New York infield has been my greatest work."

SCANDINAVIAN MUSIC MONDAY

Scouting With The Boy Scouts

TROOP 4
Troop 4 had its regular meeting Friday. There were about 25 boys present because some of the scouts went to Griffing and Earl Youngblood, one of our Eagle scouts, was absent because he was called upon to help Troop 10, and Terrell Baker was absent on account of an injury to his shoulder. After roll call Mr. Dapkin told the troop that the scoutmaster held a meeting Thursday night and that all scoutmasters were to read a letter which was given them by Captain Eddy. One of the things in the letter was that on a certain Sunday all the churches would talk of the good of the Scout law, and "what good a Scout is." Our scoutmaster also arranged for the ten Catholic boys in Troop 4 to go to communion on Sunday. He asked that all Catholic boys go to communion on the first Sunday of every month.

Friday we also voted to let Wendell Dunham go back to the troop from which he was transferred because he never comes up to meetings but once a month and of course our troop does not want to be kept back by one boy. We also voted to notify Hans Loeffler that he would be transferred if he did not come up to meetings more regularly.

Friday we received the report of the boys who were out last Saturday to collect orange boxes and we found we had cleared about five or six dollars. The boys will also go out again and try to collect some more boxes and books.

Friday, Mr. Dapkin also gave each boy a slip of paper which has parents' name on it. The paper also has questions about the boy's character, work at school, and what he likes to do, and if he keeps up with the Scout laws. It also asked other questions about the boy at a parent's home. The parents sign down that he needs some more help in the troop will help to correct these deficiencies. We were told to tell our parents to sign and mail them if possible, before Sunday night so that our troop might be the first one to have them all returned to Scout headquarters.

Our scoutmaster told the boys that he wanted all Tenderfoot Scouts to be second-class Scouts by the beginning of next year and the whole troop believes that this will be carried out to the letter.

Troop 4 had its regular efficiency contest and Patrol 1 carried away the honors again.

Before our meeting started Friday, the troop got together and gave a "thank you" to Mr. Dapkin because he was elected vice president of the Port Arthur Scoutmaster's association and Troop 4 says that they could not have elected a better one.

RANDOLPH PARKER, Scoutmaster.

TROOP NO. 4

Troop No. 4 met Friday night at 7 p. m. in the absence of Alton Headie, our former Patrol Leader. George Barth, patrol leader of patrol 3, took charge of the meeting. Patrol leader Barth checked up the patrol and collected the dues. Patrol 1 received the highest score with Patrol 2 second and Patrol 3 third. Patrol 4 was out of the third time. The new patrol leader in Troop 4, Amie, was given the honor of picking the lucky number out of the hat when we raffled our radio set. Our acting senior patrol leader called up each member of the troop and gave him a "Tenderfoot Scoutmaster's Questionnaire." The idea of this questionnaire is to get our parents more interested in Scouting and let them know the good things Scouting stands for.

Captain Scully made the announcement that he was at the service of the troop on Tuesday nights to help them pass Merit Badges or first class boys. He gave out all a card and we are going to keep record of the times passed ourselves.

We were informed that we had been called upon to give an ideal Scout meeting at the next meeting of the Scoutmasters, Ass. Scoutmasters and Scoutmasters at The Texas Company Cafeteria. Get back fellows. Four scouts are going to be picked from each patrol and remember the best ones get to go.

We had a Continental Glee Contest to see who would get a free chance on our radio set. James Hollinger won the contest and got the free chance. Amie's Mother drew the lucky name from the hat and Howell Ties was awarded the radio set.

We closed the meeting and all members left by on hand Tuesday night for our special.

TROOP 5
Troop 5 met at 7 o'clock on Wednesday. We had a roll call but no more of the members were there. The patrol was about to begin on when Captain Eddy came in and took a list of the boys of the troop and the boys of Troop 2. The boys of Troop 2 were Edmund Rogers and Philip Hoblin. These boys agreed that they would stay in Troop 5. Captain Eddy played a few games with us and then left. We continued to play games until the meeting closed.

OLIVER LIPPINCOTT, Scribe.

TROOP 10
Troop 10 had its regular meeting at the church Friday evening at 6 o'clock. We had it at 6 on account of a R. V. T. U. meeting at Griffing and the church invited us. We had a lively meeting and Earl Youngblood was there to help us. We went out to Griffing and had a mighty fine time playing in the hay. We did not get home until very late and we were so tired that we didn't think of anything except hitting the covers. We will have another meeting next Friday.

PAUL CULP, Scribe.

Found Bones After Two Million Years

BENTON SALES, Nov. 24.—Hardly have the reports of plumes of the prehistoric and other long-forgotten monsters of bygone ages in the untrampled wilds of Patagonia died down and lost evidence among the general public when another prehistoric beast of gigantic proportions, or rather the remains of such is brought to light in Argentina.

In the course of excavation work in the port, the digging institutes, packed up, among the usual debris, several large bones. These lay several days without notice, but finally the superintending engineer made an examination. The following day more bones were unearthed, and it was decided to suspend work and inform the head of the port works. He, in turn, examined the bones and decided that they were fossil, subsequently informing the natural history museum of the discovery.

A group of naturalists decided that the bones were the remains of a mammal. Later, other bones were dug up, among them a tusk. According to the statement of an expert, made after close observation and consideration of the depth at which the bones were found, and the layers of earth covering them, the skeleton has been buried there from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 years.

The tusk which was broken in two parts, weighs more than 100 kilos, is over a meter and a half long, and 40 centimeters in diameter.

The report that Mr. Jack Dempsey offers to play the All-American football team is untrue.

Wife Pleads for Her Mate Despite The Other Woman

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Although she and her three children had been "devoted" for a younger and prettier woman, Mrs. James R. Handley, 4300 Ellis avenue, yesterday pleaded before Judge John F. Haas, appearing for leniency for James R. Handley, accused of passing worthless checks.

Handley, it was charged, had passed the spurious paper on W. C. Levin, branch manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, and with the proceeds maintained Miss Lucille Long, a woman in the Atlantic hotel, Pennsylvania and without food for the children, the oldest of them 5 years old. Mrs. Handley begged for the release of her husband. In the face of advice from Judge Haas that she find work and forget all about this man and start life anew.

"No, when I married Jim, I married him for better or for worse," sobbed Mrs. Handley, "and I am going to stick to him through thick and thin, regardless of what he does."

Judge Haas gave Mrs. Handley $10 from the court's "poor fund" and instructed that he would reduce Handley's $25,000 bond.

ARREST FARMER KILLING FAMILY

Two Boys Escape When Slayer Is Frightened

ELUFITON, Ind., Nov. 25.—Tom Clark, alleged slayer of his wife and youngest son, at their farm home near Elufiton, was captured this afternoon by a local police officer.

Clark, a storekeeper, and an agent of Clark, telephone Sheriff Noah Ferguson, that the farmer had been taken.

Countrywide Is Warned
Clark's capture came after officers of the sheriff's office, in a half dozen counties in this part of the state had been warned to watch for him.

Clark is a native of Indiana, and at the present time, he is in the employ of a local merchant.

The boys, who were with their father at the time of the shooting, were taken to the local hospital, and are now recovering from their wounds.

FEW KNOW GRID PLAYER'S DUTY

Understanding of Division of Work Needed

By HURK SWARTZ (Written for the United Press)

There are many things that come up in the game of football about which the enthusiastic spectator thinks he knows, when he has the wrong impression.

The man on the sidelines, it is always understood, knows what plays should have been used in a critical moment of a game, but as to the duties and workings of the various players, he is sometimes confused.

Frequently, a fan is overheard to say that the cut on the offensive side is not getting the end on the defensive side, when any close follower of the game knows that the end on one side rarely interferes with the offensive back and the end on the other side rarely interferes with the defensive back.

The tackle, who is supposed to be a good game and a good player, is the one who is supposed to be a good game and a good player.

SOCIETY

AN ENTERTAINING AND INstructive program was rendered Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Lincoln Literary Society at the high school.

At a short business session, which preceded the program, Gladys Griffith was unanimously elected editor of the club, and roll call was responded to with a remark about a good book. The program was responded to as follows:

Talk, "Influence of Books"—Allie Siler.

Talk, "The Story of Mankind"—
Joe Hudson.

Poem, "Fellowship of Books"—
Elmer Crain.

Talk, "Books"—Simon LeBlanc.

The program was concluded by a talk by Mrs. E. S. Carter, librarian of Memorial library, who told the content of the value of books and their importance in the lives of the students.

sale on this occasion, the proceeds of which will go to the Division treasure for the General Aid work.

MRS. JOE CORTHELL PRESIDed at the all-day session of the Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church. This was afternoon at which time reports of the various circles showed that the membership had increased more than fifty per cent during the past few months.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. A. W. Dwyer, and at noon Rev. C. W. Culp made a short talk meeting this evening, at which time the subject of "The Home Mission Survey" will be studied. Miss Little Hartshorn will have charge of the following program:

Scripture reading: Miss Georgia
Tisdale.

Senior League Sunday evening, 6:30 o'clock.

The League and their friends will hear another good program at the regular League hour on "Life Service."
The program will be under the direction of Mrs. John R. Adams. Her subject will be "How Shall They Hear Without Preaching?"

WANTS U. S. TO SAVE
ADDICTS OF COCAINE
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 23.—
The White Cross association, which has heretofore confined its activities to combating tuberculosis, is back of a national movement to have the federal government join the states in providing treatment and temporary homes for drug addicts.

Appeals are being sent to members of congress to receive the bill now on the senate calendar providing an appropriation of $100,000 to care for drug addicts.

The reason so many don't get ahead of the game is they don't pay.

The man who wants to cheat is always the one who is cheated.

Port Neches News
MRS. R. N. OAKLEY
Correspondent

Hans Garrett Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garrett, had his collar bone broken, while playing on the school campus, Wednesday afternoon.
This is the second accident little Hans has suffered in the past two years.

Dr. W. C. Howard, formerly a Port Neches physician, but now located at Appleby, Texas, was a visitor in Port Neches Tuesday night.

Mr. L. M. Howard of Beaumont was a visitor here Tuesday.

Mrs. Nellie F. Garrett of Armstrong is here to spend the holidays with her son, W. H. Garrett and family.

Mr. J. O. Turner has returned from a business trip to Fullerton, La.
Mrs. C. E. Nickelson was a Port Arthur visitor Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. McAlpine and Mrs. G. A. Goodson were Beaumont visitors Sunday.

J. F. F. Club Meets
Wednesday afternoon the members of the J. F. F. club met at the home of Mrs. Evans at the clubhouse. Mrs. Evans was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the club members. A delicious dinner was served to the following members: Mrs. Evans,
Mrs. G. A. Goodson, Mrs. W. F. McAlpine,
Mrs. Gentry from Port Neches, Mrs.
Evans, Mrs. Vance, Mrs. Dumas, Mrs.
Bassett, Mrs. Tarbush of Port Arthur.
The club will meet with Mrs. McNeill at her home in Port Neches December 4.

Men's Pajamas Are Asked by Civic Club
For Yanks' Hospitals

The Red Cross has issued a call for men's pajamas to be sent to the hospitals for American soldiers. The pajamas may be made of cotton or any kind of material, and do not necessarily need to be new, but must be in good condition. Mrs. Don Ab-len, chairman of the production committee, announced today.

It is hoped by the production committee, she said, that Port Arthur men will be as generous in their donation of pajamas as they have been in the past, and that they will respond as quickly as possible. Donations may be sent to the Red Cross headquarters, Room 10, Smith building, or call 330 and donations will be called for.

WORLD REJECTS PULPIT "SISSY"

So Says Preacher. Scorning
Effeminate Type

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 25.—Dr.
Theodore George Shney of St. Mark's Lutheran church, north side, before the central conference, said:

"The minister ought to be a human being in every sense of the word to get his church before the community.

Campanians that suggest better streets, better living conditions, cleaner pol-tices, and a superior national life ought to suggest his time and thought.

"There is no place for a 'sissy' in the ministry today. Marks of effeminacy have lost their value. The world craves for dynamism. This is a day of advertising. Without the press, we can do nothing.

"The church today is not hidden.
It is afraid that external change may be construed as internal change. So we shun advertising, not because it is inherently bad or good but because it is damned with newness. The time is here when exact limitations are put on that church that refuses to advertise.

"There is no place in the papers for dogmas or creeds. They are trying to take care of the interests of the whole people. It is necessary that the newspaper man think well of the pastor and the church, for he forms opinion 250 days in every year."

WIFE'S DEVOTION WINS JUDGE AND CITIZENSHIP FOR AGED HUSBAND

Inspectors Rejected Plea for Papers on Account of Lit-

Finds Wife Taught Mate
at Night

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 25.—Naturalization inspectors usually have their say in the matter of who become American citizens and who do not, but this was one time when Federal Judge Edward M. Mack went over the heads of inspectors and granted papers to an aged alien.

The story told by court attaches upon their return here from San Angelo where the federal district court has recently been in session.

An aged alien, long a resident of Tom Green county, was up to receive his final degree of citizenship, but the naturalization inspectors declined the degree because the foreign-born could scarcely read the English language.

Years filled the eyes of the disappointed alien and his wife, who sat by his side, according to court officials. The judge began questioning the couple and found that the little learning the venerable foreigner had obtained was taught to him by his wife
at night.

The naturalization papers were granted and the couple left smiling.

"There is no place for a 'sissy' in
the ministry today. Marks of effemina-

HER COOK WON HUSBAND AWAY

Ex-Wife Avers That She Was Framed

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 25.—While it's a commonplace that the "way to a man's heart is through his stomach," no wife likes to see that axiom demonstrated when she is not doing the cooking. At least, that is the outlook of Mrs. E. S. Frischkorn, as offended in her efforts to cause the an-nullment of a divorce decree granted to her husband.

Appearing in court here she declared that:

"I've sold our beautiful home in Chicago, left it, because my cook had taken my place. I was no longer needed."

How More to Tell
Her story was what may call a
"full rental," but there were "moments" when the court requested that she confine her testimony to the answering of questions. Her reply to that was:

"Well, I've got so much I would like to tell."

At that, her narrative did not seem to lack many thrills. She declared, for instance, that she had surprised her husband with women at various times, while on one such occasion his penitence was shown by a prom-issory note for $100,000. He later had obtained and destroyed it, she said.

The former wife denied all the charges which her husband had made in his bill, making a counter charge that her husband and his brothers had acted together in seeking to obtain the divorce.

Says She Was Warned
She asserted that she had found a letter to her husband from a brother, who had written:

"We can get rid of her easy, and you need never see her again."

This sentence, she said, referred to statements in the letter dealing with hiring of detectives to shadow her. She spoke of being in Washington, D. C. While there, she swore, she was approached by a detective in her husband's employ.

Warning was given her, she testified, that she should place her jewelry in a safety deposit vault. She said she took that advice. Word came from detectives, according to her story, that she was being "framed."

Some Mechanics Should Keep Oily Hands Off Car, or Wear Mittens When Resting On It

KNOCKS LOOKS, AND STAYS ON

But Shoe Is Not Intended to Fit the Careful

By S. S.
A friend of mine recently drove his brand new Nile green sedan six into a service station to get something or other adjusted. He was greeted by a grimy but gay young mechanic who lifted the hood of the car and intently attempted to my friend's diagnosis of his difficulty.

But while the grimy young mechanic turned attentively he leaned languidly against the glossy side of the Nile green sedan six. His coat was literally stiff with oil, grease and dirt. When he had rested his weary frame sufficiently to stand without support there was a smudge impression of his right hip on the left rear fender of the car.

Smudges on Shiny Surface
When he had made the adjustment, called for he slammed down the hood and stroked it affectionately with his oily, grimy hands, making black smudges and smears on the shiny Nile green finish.

And before my friend got out of the place, the oily-handed son of toil had smudged the symbol of the Black Hand society on the pearl gray upholstery of the tonneau.

My friend didn't discover all these defacing smears and smudges until he got home. It was accidental for the young mechanic that he didn't. But when he saw the sullied surface of the Nile six, his anger rose and he went around the car, looking for the culprit.

He found him back to the service station and sought out the proprietor. He showed the proprietor what the mechanic had done. The proprietor was shocked. He called the young mechanic in and thus addressed him:

"You dandrified, lornsome, descendant of a Devil! Look—can you have done to Mr. Dugan's car. How many times have I told you not to mess the surface with your dirty hands? A mechanic doesn't have a skin one loves to touch, get out! You're fired! Though you are the best mechanic in the works, you can't work for me any longer! I can't afford to have the car that came into my service station running around the streets with your trademark on them!"

Save the Surface
Now the moral is this: Save the surface and you save all your customer's business. To say nothing of the safety of your hub.

Of course, Port Arthur garage and service station mechanics cannot do their craft with big white hands. But they should either keep their hands off the fixtures or wear clean, white, cotton gloves when they have the use to caress the car. And if they simply must sit in the plush and tapestry upholstered sedan and limousine, they should either remove their coat or put on kimono or something.

This applies not to garage men alone, but to filling station employees and most emphatically to the personnel of the car dealer and distributor service stations. In fact, I believe the garage men are more careful about it than the men in the service stations of the dealer and distributor. Not ALL the service stations, of course, but SOME of them.

In 1920 B. C. (that is before Cars) you could buy a very nice and shiny limo for about two hundred dollars. Maybe less. And if the proprietor of the limo garage had ever treated those vehicles as badly as some cars are treated, with respect to the defacement of glossy surfaces by careless mechanics, there would have been a lot more assault and battery, mayhem and sudden death than there was in those days.

BEWARE!

Motor Societies Have Been Found Frauds

A warning against joining fraudulent automobile associations has been issued from Washington by Fred C. Calk, secretary of the National Motorists' Association, according to M. D. Sutter, of the Motor Car Service company.

The warning comes after attention of the association officials had been called to the organization throughout the country of various "motorists' associations" which were selling memberships to automobile owners.

The men behind these alleged fraudulent societies open up an office in either state or national capital and from it send circulars to motorists everywhere. The fees have ranged from $1 to $2500.

The movement is an effort to turn automobile accessories at from 20 to 50 per cent discount, free touring and other information, and a certificate of other identification of membership in the society.

REFINERY CITY; HOME SUBURB
Automobile Plays Big Part in Daily Life

Will Port Arthur of the future become more industrial center surrounded by suburbs of homes?

This is a possibility which is much more apparent by the influence the automobile is having on city and country life. W. J. Wooten, Columbia dealer here, said:

A recent survey by the American Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in 60 large cities throughout the country, shows that 125,000 automobile owners drive to their cities daily from surrounding towns. By the same ratio, it is estimated, 250,000 automobile owners have been living beyond the boundaries of the city in which they do their business.

Bureau of Census officials at Washington say the tendency nowadays is to go out to the country in area, rather than increase their population within the city boundaries.

It is all a result of quick and easy transportation, say automobile authorities.

$500 FINE FOR MAKING CHERRY WINE AT HOME
KEOKUK, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Three men received no consideration at the hands of Judge Martin J. Wade during the recent session of Federal court held here. Roy Morrison, former Burlington shoe worker at Burlington, went when Judge Wade gave a sentence of $500 fine for having in his possession some home made cherry wine. He said he thought he had a right to have it. Several other persons were arrested on charges of illegal sales of liquor were given heavy fines.

People smoke so much now it is hard to tell when to call the fire department.

STUDENTS AT IOWA COLLEGE USING GYM
AMES, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Every student in Iowa State college is using the gymnasium for physical training for athletics, according to a statement just issued by college authorities.

Funny thing, just will happen. The mayor of New York has gone to Chicago because he needed rest.

AUTOMOBILE IS NO LONGER TOY

Today It Is Vital Factor in Community

"One inherent idea which has somewhat impeded the progress of the automobile industry," declares Walter Millard of the Marble-Loidold Sales company, local Durant dealers in four- and six-cylinder models, "is that the automobile is a luxury and a seasonal product. The very name 'pleasure car' is a remnant of that feeling."

"In the early days when the automobile was in the experimental stage, there were some grounds for supposing that the car was a luxury. Then the automobile could not stand up in any kind of weather, and its use was really seasonal."

"Again, the price was high, and was far from being within reach of the average citizen. 'A rich man's plaything' and 'an expensive toy' were some of the terms given the automobile in those pioneer days."

"That era has passed. Today the automobile is one of the vital factors in the life of any community. The mechanical efficiency achieved by automobile engineers enables a car to brave the rigors of all kinds of weather and climate. This achievement has increased public faith in the use of the motor car."

"In special pleasures the automobile is used the year round. It is no longer regarded as a plaything or a luxury. Instead, the business man and his family depend upon the car to get them to work, in town and to the theater. During vacation time and on holidays, they charter it for long pleasure jaunts."

"In actual commercial work, motor trucks are employed extensively, and have contributed their share to greater business production."

"The price of the automobile is no longer prohibitive. The range of the automobile market today meets any man's finances. The public has come to regard a car as a splendid investment, for the return in good service is worthwhile. Aside from a financial investment, most men regard it as one of the necessities of life, and consider the automobile salesman in the same category as the purveyor of food, clothing, shelter and heat."

"By completely meeting the many requirements of transportation, the automobile itself has become an essential rather than a luxury."

BATTLESHIP IOWA WILL BE SUNK IN PRACTICE
DEN MOORE, N. C., Nov. 25.—The battleship Iowa, once the pride of the navy, but now outbid by the swift progress of naval armament, will go down before the guns of the newer ships of the Pacific and Atlantic fleets at target practice near Panama this winter, according to advice from the navy department received by Lieutenant J. W. Gregory, in charge of the naval recruiting service here. The old Iowa will be towed to Panama and used for a target.

NOT ALWAYS EASY TO TRACE TROUBLE

It is not always easy to trace the cause of a blowout. The tire may have been kept carefully inflated at the proper figure, tread cuts, blowouts and beads watched, yet the casing gives out.

More often than not, difficulty of this kind must be traced back to a former blow, weakening the fabric structure and then, as time wears on, the entire casing becomes affected and blows out when least expected.

FRISCH, DUGAN CHOOSE BUICKS
Yank and Giant Select Sport Models

Mark May is showing in his selection two crack ball players of the world series games beside their favorite cars. The photo shows:

Frankie Frisch (above) and Joe Judge (below) both of whom rendered distinguished service for their respective teams in the recent struggle for the world baseball championship, spent widely at least a part of their portion of the receipts.

Each of these brilliant and hard hitting fielders bought a Buick and are now enjoying a vacation touring in their new cars.

The Giant chose a coupe and the Yank a roadster. Both selected one of the smart sport models at the Buick New York branch. The illustration also shows Frisch and his car at the top, with Dugan and his car below.

Joe Judge, the famous manager of the Cleveland Indians, and Walter Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, are other baseball stars who bought Buicks in which to enjoy the "off season."

NEW STANDARD OF CAR SERVICE

One Plan Eliminates Element of Chance

Since the birth of the automobile industry manufacturers have given much thought, as well as having kept accurate statistics covering the repair costs on the various makes, exclusive of tire and battery trouble, according to Philip Luman, Chevrolet dealer.

Sufficient data have been gathered along this line to enable at least one automobile manufacturer of a low priced car to announce the establishing of a precedent that is sure to stir the industry. The plan, in fact, eliminates the element of chance for the

HOW TO HOLD WHEEL WHEN DRIVING FAST

When driving at a high rate of speed, the steering wheel is such a way that the fingers of at least one hand straddle a spoke. This is the safest position in case of a front wheel blowout or an unforeseen hole in the road, since the wheel is much less likely to slip out of the driver's hands, if it is held in this position.

When it is necessary to employ the low gear for a considerable period it is possible to obtain the overheating

To avoid scratching the surface of a car, great care should be exercised, because a coat of varnish takes several months to harden properly. The habit of dusting a car with a cloth will spoil the finish, as the material picks up the dust and grinds it into the varnish.

Vibration of a car often causes a bolt hole in a sheet of metal to such an extent that it is practically impossible to make a tight fit in ship out of the driver's hands, if it is held in this position.

IRISH REPUBLIC WORLD'S LATEST

Shillalah and Bayonet Establish State

LONDON, Nov. 25.—General Sir Kilmer, backed by an army of 100 men, came to the aid of the Free State forces in the world's latest republic, the republic of Western Ireland.

Newport, in the county of West Mayo, is the general capital. It was won at the point of the bayonet and the south end of the shillalah from the Free State's western army corps of 100 men, who were driven into the sea, fortunately after having had time to embark in fishing boats.

The western Irish revolution began a month ago, when the Free State garrison in the little fishing village, shelling with mortars of various sizes and indulgence in the waves of the sea, which the town boats were dragged by a general Kilmer and 400 picked men of his army.

There was a short, sharp fight in which several men were hit over the head with rifles or clubs and a number of children killed by machine gun fire. How many is not known, as no corpses were found. On the other hand, the enemy's superior numbers, the Free State's close range of rifles, pistols and tank bats which raked the street of which the village consists.

After commencing a room over the principal public house, from which governmental activities are directed, General Kilmer consolidated his position and appointed his cabinet. The president has just been proclaimed.

The republic's army, reported to be well armed and equipped, and apparently with plenty of funds, is likely to remain in possession for some time. An invading army must follow the roads into the village which, what round the house of 1,000 to 2,000 feet cliffs. The houses and outposts have been placed at dominating positions on the summits and unless the Free State army arrives late at night, when vigilance has been relaxed, the positions are declared to be impregnable.

It is reported from Dublin that General Sir McKenna of the Free State army, who has won most of the territory, the Free State have regained from the rebels, will be in operation shortly against the Newport revolutionaries.

GRADS TO FOLLOW GRID FORTUNES VIA WIRELESS

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 25.—Thousands of the alumni of the Universities of Missouri and Kansas, although unable to attend the football game between the two institutions here Thanksgiving day, will be able to follow the fortunes of their favorites via wireless telephone.

Through arrangements with the Missouri state board of agriculture, a play-by-play account of the game will be broadcasted from the playing field on the instruments used by the marketing bureau in broadcasting market reports.

FRANCE PLANS TO MAKE GERMAN CAPITALISTS PAY UP INDEMNITY

The French nationalists are planning to ignore the government of Germany in collecting the war indemnity by seeking collections direct from the great German industrial leaders.

The refusal of the Berlin authorities to cooperate with the allies in collecting taxes for balancing the German budget has convinced the French nationalists that the indemnity can be collected only by personal pressure on Germany's multi-millionaires.

For that reason, France is preparing the way to hold Germany's industrial magnates practical hostages for the indemnity. A secret report has been made on this project to M. Darnaud, who was sent recently to the Rhine to investigate economic conditions.

This report has not been made public in France, with governmental authority. It is appearing surreptitiously, however.

The report declares that the coal and iron industries of the German Rhineland are in control of about a dozen industrial groups headed by the Stinnes, Thyssen, Krupp, Haniel, and others who alone in Germany are capable of obtaining foreign credit.

M. Darnaud asserts France has it in her power entirely to disorganize the economy of these groups, and adds: "So long as we maintain our present position on the Rhine we shall constitute a constant menace for the ten or twelve masters of German industry who are in reality financially the masters of Germany."

By the use of customs barriers and by systematically acquiring shares in the German industries, France expects to begin making the industrial kingpins pay the war indemnity, under pain of bankruptcy. The French plan includes a project for making France perpetual trustee of the right bank of the Rhine, where the German establishments are chiefly located, M. Darnaud's report states.

"We cannot demand that Germany should pay enormous sums for 35 years, and on the other hand we are afraid of seeing her industries develop in the proportion which would permit her to assure the payment of the debts which she has acknowledged. But so long as we are on the right bank of the Rhine and are masters of forty-five million tons a year of ore, we shall be in a position to play a decisive part in the German metal industry, demanding a control of production in return."

The French wish to replace Prussian functionaries in the Rhineland by French or Belgian officials, and control a special Rhineland parliament to pass on the future status of the areas containing Germany's chief coal and iron industries. M. Darnaud declares that "well-considered diplomacy must apply one after another the successive links of a well-thought-out course of action which, little by little, will detach from Germany a free Rhineland under the military guard of France and Belgium."

This nationalist plan of the French would mean Germany's permanent industrial downfall. It would disturb the balance of power on the European continent, making France all-powerful. Before the scheme could be made effective, Germany would have to be beaten by France in another world war.

HATCH ROMANCE BY EGG MESSAGE

Packer and Purchaser Are Then Happily Wedded

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Just a year ago an egg packer with unrequited romance in his heart penciled this message upon the smooth convexity of a choice specimen: "I hope some pretty young lady gets this egg."

"Samuel Lafan, Milton, N. Y."

Three days later Miss Minnie of 222 Mott street went marketing and purchased twelve upstate eggs at a grocery in Prince street. She found the egg of destiny and she set her wits to work and wrote to young Lafan, enclosing an authentic, can you see, Samuel saw that the specifications had been fulfilled and wrote back, sending his own picture. Correspondence ensued and yesterday, at old St. Patrick's Cathedral at Mott and Prince streets, Sam and Miss agreed to go fifty-fifty in life's joys and sorrows.

After the wedding a gorgeous affair more than 3,500 guests wished the pair happiness, and celebrated the event in Arlington Hall.

Many Americans In French Schools

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The University of Paris is a composite American institution of higher education. French colleges and universities all over the United States young hopefuls, flocked to the famous old French école.

In response to an attractive offer made by the universities of France, building French railroad and steamship lines, and with the sanction of the French government, young American students were enrolling for the summer session recently ended.

NEW CHAPTER IN STRANGE 'TREK'

Mennonites Pay for Land in Free Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 25.—Another chapter in one of the most colorful religious emigrations of history was written here recently when for the first time of land from the land of the forbidden to the Mennonites, during the World War when members of a Canadian religious sect, who of the war were drafted into the Canadian army, they became disenchanted and cast about for another home.

Mexico, eager to get the thirty colonies, offered them special inducements, and they agreed to settle in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico.

The land was divided in two sections from heirs of Carlos Zuloaga, original owner of the land in the days of Mexico, to "Hempel, Wall and Rein-lander Waisensant" in one parcel, for a consideration of 1,200,000 pesos, and to Heide, Newfeld, and Reinlander Waisensant in another section for 1,200,000 pesos.

Only a fraction of these immense sums could be paid by the Mennonites and two mortgages each for $25,000 pesos to be paid in yearly installments, have been made over to the Zuloaga interests.

The first party of Mennonites came to Mexico from Canada over a year ago in search of a land where they might worship their God as they saw fit. One of the tenets of their faith was written in the book of forbids them to take up arms and the original owners to the Mennonites, during the World War when members of a Canadian religious sect, who of the war were drafted into the Canadian army, they became disenchanted and cast about for another home.

Mexico, eager to get the thirty colonies, offered them special inducements, and they agreed to settle in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico.

3,000 Mennonites, located in the Mexican state. A complete township has been laid out with all conveniences. The present settlement is but the forerunner of 20,000 more members of the sect who will emigrate here in the spring.

"PAINS" GET CREDITS FOR FAIR HORSEWOMEN

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—(Continued) The University of Texas, who have a long time to ride horseback, will be given credits for the "pains" if they take the required course.

A course in riding has been added to the list of other sports, and students taking the training will receive the same credit given for swimming, canoeing, basket ball, hockey and boxing.

Both English and ordinary forms of riding, and they will be given credit for the same credit given for swimming, canoeing, basket ball, hockey and boxing.
